Abstract_ This study, which is an operational research about juvenile sample situation deposited in the Child protection Center for male in Oujda, Eastern Morocco Kingdom, aims to know the juvenile's satisfaction degree about rehabilitation and integration programs proposed to them, using a survey as an instrument allowing the researcher to collect information about wishes, views and bearings of juveniles.*

The survey adopted by the researcher is divided into two main parts. The first one contains the raw data of the sample examined, and the second one is about the programs proposed to inmates and their ability to achieve their purpose from the point of view of juveniles.

This study involved 40 inmates. Among the important results being revealed was the dissatisfaction of juveniles about their educational program. Therefore, this study recommends the necessity of improving educational and professional program's quality, and has also called for communication between academics and practitioners in order to correct and support the path of a society class in need of our care, which is the juvenile's class.
