

THE IMPACT OF AN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM BASED ON THE VISUAL STRATEGIES TO INSTILL IN SOME MOTOR SKILLS IN CHILDREN WITH AUTISM

ABDULLAH BIN SALEH AL-QAHTANI

Assistant Professor Of Psychology

Shaqra University

ABSTRACT_ The research aims to develop an educational program based on the visual strategies and exposure to Vaith in the Learning of some basic motor skills in children with autism. The researcher used the experimental method using experimental design for one group following the measurement pre and post them, and is the research community in autistic children in Riyadhhand between the ages of 5: 9 years, has been the researcher selecting a sample search way intentional The total of (10) children.*

To gather data for research, the researcher used a measure estimating infantile autism - Version II CARS2-ST and a list of visual strategies used with an autistic child and basic motor skills tests.

It was one of the most important results is the effectiveness of the educational program based on the visual strategies in the development of some basic motor skills in children with autism, and was one of the most important recommendations call those in charge of educational institutions in the field of autism to the use of the proposed program to improve basic motor skills have an autistic child.

Key words: Educational program, Visual strategies, Motor skills, Children with autism.*