ABSTRACT _This study aimed at identifying the educational problems that facing students of high schools (Tawjehi) in Palestine by field study at Ramallah and Al-Bireh Governorate schools. The study population consisted of all Tawjihi students in Ramallah and Al-Bireh in the academic year 2014/2015, totaling (4519) students, while the study sample, randomly sample, consisted of (528) students. Researchers used a questionnaire formed of (64) items distributed on two aspects. Validity and reliability of the questionnaire were tested by educational and statistical manipulations. The results of the study revealed that the degree estimations of students, of both educational problems that facing Tawjehi students and the role of school administrations in reducing these problems, came medium, with means of (2.95) and (3.12) respectively. In the light of these results the study came up with a number of recommendations.
