

AS PERCEIVED BY THE ACADEMICS OF JAZAN UNIVERSITY AND THEIR SUGGESTIONS FOR LIMITING IT

MOHAMMED ALI MAASHI
Associate Professor College of Education
Jazan University

ABSTRACT_ The research aimed to identify some of the factors associated with delayed age of marriage as seen by academics Jazan University, and the research was conducted on a sample of academics Jazan University of strength (74) Single (37) than men (37) women, and use the search Esteban restricted for some associated with delayed marriage age factors prepared by the researcher, and research on the descriptive and analytical approach adopted, the study reached several conclusions: the lack of statistically significant responses research sample differences (men - and women) on the axis of cultural and intellectual factors phrases in the abstract level (0.01), the lack of statistically significant differences for responses the research sample (men - and women) on the axis of social factors in the abstract level (0.01), the lack of statistically significant differences between the responses of a sample search on the axis of economic factors in the abstract level (0.01), as the research found some of the proposed solutions to overcome some of the factors associated with delayed marriageable age from the perspective of academics at the University of Jazan.*

KEY WORDS: Delayed age of marriage, Cultural and intellectual factors, Economic factors, Social factors.*